

Mike Richardson

- Chair, Vistage International.
- President, Sherpa Alliance Inc.

As President of Sherpa Alliance, Mike specializes in the strategy, execution and breakthrough leadership challenges of small-to-medium sized & fast-moving businesses. As a Chair with Vistage International, (formerly known as TEC: The Executive Committee) Mike coaches and facilitates confidential peer groups of CEOs, senior executives and professional service providers, helping them improve their businesses by sharing their best ideas, tackling their most challenging issues and resolving their toughest problems. Mike's leadership journey started on oil and gas drilling rigs with Shell International as a Petroleum Engineer. From there, via the two-year, full-time MBA at London Business School, Mike moved into the Aerospace industry and rapidly gained experience in multiple line-management & executive leadership roles. He quickly progressed to Profit & Loss responsibility at a business unit level and then at a divisional level, most recently running the Aerospace division of Spirent plc.
