

Bainbridge Consulting

We're Hiring!

Do you have superb analytical and communication skills? An entrepreneurial spirit and intellectual curiosity? Are you willing to learn and ready to be challenged? We want to hear from you.

To submit your resume, please email recruiting@bainbridge.com and include Business Analyst in the email subject line. Bainbridge is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

What We Do

Bainbridge Consulting is a leading management consulting firm serving top tier Fortune 1000 companies with their corporate and business development needs across the globe. Through in-depth research and analysis, our business analysts become the front line team for exceptional performance and results at our client organizations to help formulate strategies that enable them to outperform the competition.

What You'll Do

Analysts at Bainbridge have the opportunity to interact in an energetic, entrepreneurial environment and still enjoy the stability of working at a consulting firm. Bainbridge's wide array of clients span a variety of industries, from technology oriented industries such as e-business and software, to more established industries such as healthcare, finance, education, and consumer products.

Unlike other entry-level consulting positions, at Bainbridge new analysts are assigned responsibility early on. During the first year, analysts will typically become experts in 5 to 10 different industries. While gaining industry expertise, analysts also have the opportunity to fine-tune their communication skills through daily contact with Fortune 1000 executives.

Unlimited Growth Potential

Bainbridge recognizes the value of each employee and works hard to help each team member find their unique niche. With a culture of meritocracy and focus on professional development, we offer extensive opportunities for learning, from rigorous in-house classes on a range of strategy topics, to seminars at leading academic institutions and industry conferences. Training begins with a rigorous three month internship and continues with ongoing mentorship and training through the six month analyst training program.

Build Your Network

By joining our team you are joining a network of seasoned professionals who will support you throughout your career. Bainbridge alumni have gone on to work for Fortune 1000 companies and investment banks, attend Top Ten MBA programs and even start their own businesses.

Customized Professional Development Plans

Bainbridge offers extensive on-the-job professional development through customized training plans. Since Bainbridge is a growing company, you can make a real impact on the future of the firm and our clients. From working directly with the CEOs of Fortune 1000 companies to helping define the growth strategy of the firm, you will gain invaluable experience to propel you on your career path.

Mentor Program

New employees share an office with the seasoned mentor for three to six months ensure consistent, hands-on learning and guidance. This one-on-one interaction is tailored to your needs, fosters our team-oriented environment and ensures success on each client engagement.

Leadership Opportunities

Analysts also have the opportunity to hone their leadership skills, whether by guiding a team of interns, participating in business development meetings, or heading up project teams for clients.

Life at Bainbridge

Stemming from the dedicated practices of our management and employees, Bainbridge permeates a culture of excellence and commitment to each of its employees and clients, illustrating why employees truly want to work here. Our team has fostered a sense of camaraderie through employee events, casual social gatherings and participation in local community service efforts.

"Bainbridge employees encourage each other to grow as well-rounded individuals who bring their intelligence and passion to the office, the client site, and the community at large. The collegial atmosphere promotes collaboration and teamwork and as a result some of my coworkers have become my close friends." - Analyst