

A Moment of Your Time

Hello,

My name is Amy Murphy and I am this year's Director of Advocacy for the Residence Hall Association. RHA is a student government dedicated to the students living in the residence halls. We work to promote community bonding between the halls and to advocate for resident needs. As Director of Advocacy my role is that of support; I am here to listen to your concerns, desires, and ideas pertaining to the residence halls and act as a liaison between you and the administration. Look for the Advocacy Chair, Floor Representative, or Residential Senator of your RHA hall council to voice your thoughts or join RHA yourself! I look forward to your input on how we can improve our community and its residence halls.

Sincerely,

RHA Wants to Know...

Starting in the fall of 2011 visitors will have to pay a small fee to park on campus Monday-Friday; are you for or against this decision?

"Native American Heritage Month"

This month is dedicated to the recognition of the injustices suffered by the Native American population as well as their contributions to our country.

Interesting Info:

- ❖ Human fossil remains found in the Americas have been dated back to over 10,000 BCE
- ❖ The first Native American Indian Day was in 1916 in New York.
- ❖ In the 20th century A.L. Kroeber began Salvage Ethnography; the recording of Native American societies to preserve their history and culture.
- ❖ 1060-1071 Thousands of

Enviro Talk

Coral reefs stretching from the Indian Ocean to Southeast Asia are dying because of Global Warming, causing a catastrophic ripple effect along the food chain as many plants and fish rely on the reefs for survival. Help reduce your carbon footprint by planting something in the Crossroads Garden. Gloves available in the RHA office.

Tips to Succeed This Month

As midterms are wrapping up and final exams are approaching it is important to plan ahead. Create a study schedule in advance and stick to it. Include snack breaks and time out for yourself to help you stay focused and energized.

Remember: your health comes first so try to get enough rest and if you're feeling overwhelmed and would like to talk to someone contact the free counseling services provided by the school.
