

2008-2009 Scholarship Questionnaire

Your University of San Diego Scholarship or Grant can partially or fully come in the form of a named scholarship that has been established by a donor for special philanthropic purposes – in honor or memory of a loved one, to celebrate a University of San Diego class, or as a bequest, for example.

If you qualify for a named scholarship, that scholarship will serve as a part or all of your University of San Diego Scholarship or Grant. It is not a supplement to your financial aid package; rather, it replaces part or all of the University of San Diego Scholarship or Grant offered in your financial aid package.

Why apply for a Named Scholarship?

Receiving a named scholarship is an honor and can bring you closer to the University of San Diego's tradition of giving back to the community.

If you receive a named scholarship, you will be invited to the University of San Diego's annual Scholarship Luncheon, where you will have a chance to meet representatives of scholarship funds. These representatives are often alumni or friends of the University. By developing relationships with them, you can find mentors and create links with the past, present, and future of University of San Diego.

We request the following information in order to match you with the appropriate named scholarship(s). Any information you choose to provide is completely voluntary, but you will not be eligible for a named scholarship if you do not complete this form.
