The Department of Health Sciences and Nursing, in the College of Education, Nursing and Health Professions at the University of Hartford seeks one tenure track, assistant/associate professor of nursing beginning Fall 2015. Applicants should have a doctorate in Nursing or in a related field, from an accredited institution, or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by July 2015; demonstrated potential for or record of scholarly/creative activity; a Master's degree in Nursing; eligibility for licensure as a registered nurse in Connecticut; and a commitment to educating an ethnically and culturally diverse student population. Experience as a nursing educator in postsecondary nursing programs is preferred as are a record of research, publication or other scholarly and/or creative endeavors; proficiency in the development of on-line educational programs and instruction; demonstrated ability to work effectively in a team-teaching, collegial setting; and experience as a nurse manager.

The chosen candidate will direct the development of an on-line MSN program in management, with the possibility of assuming the role of MSN Program Director for the on-line and face to face MSN programs. Other major responsibilities include teaching undergraduate and master’s level courses, advising students, contributing to ongoing program development, serving as a liaison between clinical agency personnel and the Department, and carrying out a program of research and scholarship.

The University has seven schools and colleges that offer 84 undergraduate majors and more than 30 graduate programs. Students at the University of Hartford find success in a learning environment that both challenges and mentors them. Our academic mission is to engage students in acquiring the knowledge, skills and values necessary to thrive in, and contribute to, a pluralistic, complex world. For the full text of our academic mission and more information about the University, please visit our website (http://www.hartford.edu). For more information about the college and department, please visit www.hartford.edu/enhp.

The University of Hartford is an open and welcoming community, which values diversity in all its forms. In addition, the University aspires to have its faculty and staff reflect the rich diversity of its student body and the Hartford region. Candidates committed to working with diverse populations and conversant in multicultural issues are encouraged to apply.

Applicants should send: 1) Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications, teaching philosophy, research agenda; 2) Curriculum vitae with current email address; 3) Three current letters of recommendation (one attesting to teaching effectiveness); 4) Student evaluations; 5) Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree; 6) One or two reprints/preprints of scholarly writing. Finalists will be required to submit official transcripts prior to the interview.

All documents in PDF form are to be emailed to:

Susan Eichar, EdD, APRN., Search Committee Chair
University of Hartford
College of Education, Nursing and Health Professions
Department of Health Sciences and Nursing - Auerbach Hall 228
200 Bloomfield Avenue
West Hartford, CT 06117
T. 860-768-4213
seichar@hartford.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE: For best consideration, applications should be received by February 27, 2015

The University of Hartford is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Employer, Male/Female/Disabled/Veteran.
Women and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. EEO/AA/M/F/D/V.