Welcome from the Vice President and Provost

Welcome faculty to the 2014-2015 academic year! We have 17 new tenured and tenure-track faculty joining us this year. Also joining us are Patricia Marquez, in her new role as Dean of the Joan B. Kroc School of Peace Studies, and Michael Williams, in his new role as Director of the Changemaker Hub. I am also pleased to announce Jeffrey Burns, as the new Director of the Center for Catholic Thought and Culture.

In addition to new faces, you also will note new and renovated spaces. The Center for Inclusion and Diversity has moved from UC225 to Maher Hall 253 and the Veterans Center has moved into the space formerly occupied by the CID. The 30,000 square foot School of Nursing and Health Science Beyster Institute for Nursing Research is now under construction and it will be completed by fall 2015. The Shiley-Marcos School of Engineering is expanding into the Mail Center space and part of the Torero Store. The Mail Center has relocated to Maher Annex (Print Shop) and some Torero Store items have been moved to Tu Mercado in the SLP. In addition, the Department of Music in Camino Hall has been extensively renovated with new faculty offices, music rooms and practice rooms.

As you know, the Presidential Search is underway for a new president to succeed Dr. Mary Lyons. The Search Committee has prepared the search timeline and developed the Presidential Search Profile which can be viewed on the Presidential Search website. And after 16 years of transformative service, Dean Paula Cordeiro is stepping down as dean of the School of Leadership and Education Sciences. A Search Committee has been formed and the search process will conclude later in spring 2015.

This academic year marks the beginning of a two-year residency requirement in which freshmen will be required to live on campus in both their freshmen and sophomore years. This change is being made to improve the retention rate of sophomores by establishing a better sense of community and belonging through new and expanded academic and non-academic programs.

I look forward to serving you, our faculty, and our students during the 2014-2015 academic year.

Andrew T. Allen, PhD
Vice President and Provost

Undergraduate Career Transformation at USD

Life during and after USD. Career Services is expanding its vision, services, and team for professional development at USD that is threaded through all four years of a student's experience. Career Services will incorporate a holistic integration of professional development throughout a student's experience that capitalizes on the coordination and sharing of the many opportunities and programs taking place on our campus.

One of the key points of the strategic vision includes differentiated services based on student needs for the College of Arts and Science, School of Business Administration, and the Shiley-Marcos School of Engineering. By using the Four Year Professional Development Plan as a guide, students can capitalize on academic pursuits, engaged experiences, and career planning initiatives to have a stronger sense of direction when pursuing a major. In order to assure student success, a “hub and spokes” approach has been created to transform the Career Services Center. The main Career and Professional Development team is presently housed in Hughes Administration Center, with “spokes” present in the School of Business and the College of Arts & Sciences. A career counselor will soon be integrated onto the team for the Shiley-Marcos School of Engineering.

The Career Services Center is at an exciting time of growth for USD and the professional development of USD students. As the career community is built that supports USD students' lifetime professional development, a confident Torero Community for life is created.

Summer Programs Abroad and International Opportunities

Register Your International Travel

Unfortunately during our travels, we never know when an emergency might occur. Therefore, it is very important to register your travel, prior to traveling, with our USD travel registration. USD provides several support services when traveling abroad, but if you are not registered, you may not be eligible. To register your international travel go to: www.sandiego.edu/international/resources/travel-registration.php

Courses Abroad in Summer 2014

During Summer 2014, USD’s International Center sent 26 faculty members, from a wide variety of disciplines, abroad with USD undergraduate students to locations around the world. The exciting faculty-led programs combine intensive coursework, cultural activities, connections to international alumni and community service-learning. These varied experiences help development us all into more global citizens.

Paris, France: Dustin Sharp, M. Margaret McKeown

We would like to thank the entire USD faculty for their hard work and dedication this past summer in designing and delivering unique learning experiences for our students around the world!

Upcoming Study Abroad Proposals
Would you like to participate in teaching a faculty-led course abroad? These courses provide diverse opportunities for students and can also extend and enhance the international experience of faculty. Proposals to teach undergraduate courses abroad in 2016 for intersession and summer sessions are now available. The deadline for applications is Oct. 1, 2014. For more information, please visit www.sandiego.edu/international/faculty/teaching-abroad.php

International Students and Scholars
The Office of International Students and Scholars (OISS) continues to manage an increasing number of international students. In addition to providing immigration services they offer counseling and educational and social programs to reduce culture shock and assure a wonderful learning experience for our international students. There are over 500 degree-seeking students on campus, from approximately 65 countries. The top three countries represented are China, Saudi Arabia and Mexico. In addition, several exchange students have joined USD for a semester or the academic year, as well as several visiting international scholars and faculty.

International Opportunity Grants
These grants are available to promote research and scholarship abroad as well as to help USD internationalize its campus and curriculum by giving faculty and staff the opportunity to work on projects with their counterparts abroad. Awards are announced twice per fiscal year with next application period for travel occurring between Jan. 1 - June 30, 2015. The deadline for these applications is Thursday, Oct. 16, 2014. The current grant pool is $35,000 with a maximum award per person of $2,500; the average award is $1600. Applicants must be full-time, benefit-based employees to qualify. For more information, please visit www.sandiego.edu/international/faculty/grants/.

Language Improvement Training Opportunities
In order to provide faculty and staff with basic language skills, the International Center is offering 3 or 6 month memberships to Rosetta Stone. With each membership comes unlimited access to every language and level available in the program at a special discounted rate. Faculty and staff receive a discounted rate of $40 for a 3 month membership and $75 for 6 months. Eligible subscribers include full-time, benefit-based USD faculty, administration and staff. Students are not eligible. For more information, go to www.sandiego.edu/international/faculty/development.php.

Core Curriculum Revision Process
The Core Curriculum revision process will continue in the 2014-2015 academic year. An “Open Discussion” hosted by the Core Planning Committee will be held on Sept. 23 at 1:15 p.m. in Salomon Lecture Hall, Maher Hall. During this informal discussion, last year’s CPC will answer questions about the proposal. The Core Proposal and governance model are being reviewed by each unit’s curriculum committee. If the proposal is accepted by each undergraduate unit, it will be submitted to the University Senate. If accepted by the Senate, it will be submitted to the President and the Board of Trustees.

Funding Resources for Faculty Development
The Funding Resources below and on the website www.sandiego.edu/provost/resources/funding.php identify a number of internal funding opportunities for USD faculty. In addition, faculty are encouraged to contact Traci Merrill, Director of Sponsored Programs, for identification of external funding sources for research and scholarship.

Center for Educational Excellence Grants and Stipends
CEE offers grants for travel to educational conferences and stipends for faculty development. These funds are available to promote research and scholarship and to help CEE enhance its programs by giving faculty the opportunity to attend leading conferences on higher education. See www.sandiego.edu/cee/grants.

Enhanced Student-Faculty Interaction Fund
The purpose of the fund is to foster academic experiences among faculty and students to enrich academic life at USD. See www.sandiego.edu/documents/provost/esfi_rule.pdf

Faculty Research Grants
Faculty Research Grants (FRGs) are made available by the Provost’s Office to the deans of the academic units. The deans determine guidelines for allotment of the FRGs. Check with your respective dean to learn about the guidelines set for your College or professional school.

International Opportunity Grants for Faculty and Staff
The purpose of the grant award is to “internationalize” the USD campus and curriculum by exposing faculty and staff to different cultures through foreign travel. See www.sandiego.edu/international/faculty/grants/.

Sabbatical Leave
Sabbatical leave with pay may normally be granted to those who have held full-time faculty appointments for at least six full consecutive years at USD. See www.sandiego.edu/legal/policies/faculty/sabbaticalleave.pdf.

University Professorships
University Professors are those who have demonstrated outstanding scholarly achievements in teaching and research supporting the mission and goals of USD. Five professorships are awarded each year to tenured faculty with an award of $20,000. See www.sandiego.edu/provost/awards/professorships.

Recent Grant Awards
Susan Bonnell, PhD, School of Nursing and Health Science, received a Registered Nurse Education Capitation funding award for $216,000 from the State of California, Song-Brown Health Care Workforce Training Program for the 2014-2015 academic year. It will be used by students who will serve as primary care nurse practitioners and provide needed services in areas of unmet need within the state. She also received $100,000 from the Song-Brown Registered Nurse Education Special Program that will be used for partial salary support for clinical faculty members educating students in quality care and outcomes, participating in the Masters Entry Program in Nursing (MEPN).

The Jonas Center for Nursing and Veterans Healthcare, 2014-2016 Jonas Nurse Scholars Program, has again awarded the School of Nursing, Joseph Burkard, DNSc, $150,000 to support Student Aid. PhD and DNP Nurse Leader Scholars and Veterans Healthcare Scholars will be supported by these funds.
Derrick R. Cartwright, PhD, Director of University Galleries, has received a $58,000 grant from The Getty Foundation. This two-year grant will support research and planning for the exhibition “Xerox Art in Brazil and Argentina, 1970-1980” to be held at the University Galleries and for Southern California institutions to collaborate with counterparts in Latin America examining, researching and presenting Latin American Art.

Michael Catanzaro, Director of Sustainability, has received a $60,000 Service Agreement from the San Diego Gas & Electric Company to provide regional implementation support for the San Diego Regional Energy Partnership and ensure consistency among the program offerings and messaging. Also included is the dissemination of results and best practices to other local governments not a part of the Local Government Partnership about actions they can take in their communities.

Laura Deitrick, PhD, Director of the Caster Family Center for Nonprofit and Philanthropic Research, SOLES, received a $15,000 subcontract from Nash Associates for technical assistance and support in the delivery of evaluation services for the TAY Academy Program.

Sarah Gray, PhD, Environmental and Ocean Sciences, has once again been awarded continuation funding for FY 2014-15 from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Coral Reef Conservation Program. The long-term conservation outcome of these awards addresses the reduction of land-based sources of sediment and water pollution associated with watershed development in Coral Bay (CB), St. John, US Virgin Islands, a USVI Coral Reef Management Priority Site. This current installment of $56,936 and the previous payment of $91,102, when added to NOAA’s ongoing funding for this project which began in 2008, to date totals $681,480.

Sally Brosz Hardin, PhD, Dean, School of Nursing and Health Science, has received $299,960 from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Resources and Services Administration, Faculty Loan Program 2014. This project prepares nurses for faculty positions through a nursing education component of the Doctor of Philosophy in Nursing or Doctor of Nursing Practice Programs in the School of Nursing.

Dean Sally Brosz Hardin, and the School of Nursing, again received funding for 2014-2015 from the County of San Diego, Neighborhood Reinvestment Program, of $20,000 to purchase a transformer for the Beyster Institute under construction. Since 2003, the County has granted a total of $280,000 specifically to the School to maintain and update the School's Simulation and Standardized Patient Nursing Laboratory.

Susan M. Lord, PhD, Engineering, and Michelle Camacho, PhD, Sociology, along with Catherine Mobley, PhD, Clemson University and Joyce Main, Purdue University, have received a grant from the National Science Foundation of $472,627 for support of the project “Collaborative Research: Military Veteran Students’ Pathways in Engineering Education.” Student veterans bring valuable assets to their engineering education, but more research is needed to understand their academic and social acculturation into campus life. This comparative case study of student veterans in engineering across four academic institutions will include interviews of student veterans and key stakeholders, as well as a content analysis of materials and websites related to student veteran issues and concerns.

Daniel Sheehan, PhD, Physics, was awarded $4,000 from Paradigm Energy Research Corp to support a student working in the lab during the summer session 2014.

Nilmini Silva-Send, PhD, School of Law, Public Interest Law, The Energy Policy Initiatives Center (EPIC), is the recipient of a $12,000 contract from San Diego Gas and Electric (SDG&E). EPIC will provide the City of Encinitas with technical support to assist with the development of an updated Greenhouse Gas Inventory using a review of Green House Gas emission inventories of the City for 2005 and the period from 2010-2013, and will make recommendations for integration into the city’s Climate Action Plan.

Michael Terry, DNP, School of Nursing and Health Science, has received $142,450 from the State of California, Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development to establish and manage a graduate-level educational stipend program to support students who are studying to become Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioners and who commit to working in California’s county public mental health system.
Linda Urden, DNSc, School of Nursing and Health Science, has received $150,000 in student scholarship funds from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, New Careers in Nursing 2014, to help alleviate the nursing shortage and increase the diversity of nursing professionals. Scholarships will be paid to college graduates without nursing degrees who are enrolled in USD’s Masters Entry Program in Nursing Program.
