The Women’s Center invites all students, faculty and staff to their production of

Can’t Thread a Moving Needle

By Barbara Means Fraser
Directed by Meggie Zanger

PERFORMANCE DATE:
Friday, April 11 @ 8pm
Shiley Theatre (No tickets necessary)
Talk Back following the performance

About the Play:
In an effort to raise awareness and put an end to sexual violence on college campuses and to promote and educate students about healthy relationships, Can’t Thread a Moving Needle is a compilation of real stories about college students whose lives have been impacted by sexual assault. The performance of this play will be part of USD’s Sexual Assault Awareness Week.

For further questions about the performance email:
Meggie Zanger, Director – mzanger@sandiego.edu
Sammy Bauman-Martin, Production Stage Manager – sjbauman-martin@sandiego.edu