Course Description

The intent of the course is to enable candidate's to acquire the background knowledge and skills necessary to adjust their teaching techniques and strategies to promote academic success for all students in a culturally (i.e., race, ethnicity, language, gender, sexual orientation, socio-economic status, exceptionality, privilege, religion, etc) diverse classroom. Through service learning or teaching practicum field experience and various explorations, this course will address issues that develop sensitivity and skill development for effective cross-cultural and second language educational practices, including challenging deficit perspectives that view students' backgrounds as the explanation for the achievement gap. The course will investigate the influence teachers have on student outcomes.

This course is designed to help students analyze the history of the development of the American educational system as it relates to students' professional teacher responsibilities as multi-culturally competent advocates for all children. Candidates will examine the historical, philosophical, cultural, political, and legal dimensions of current U.S. educational issues, particularly as these relate to the civil rights of linguistically and culturally diverse students. Students will also examine education from a global perspective and conduct comparative investigations of educational systems.

Field Experience Requirement

Field Experience: Students will be involved in a Service Learning project or Teaching Practicum with a school or community-based program. Ten hours of practicum are required for undergraduates for this class (For MCC Students the ten hours are part of the 75 hours). Dr. Helene Mandell, Field Experience Manager for SOLES, will provide details for undergraduates. Students will be expected to journal about their experiences and pay particular attention to integrating class material with this field experience.

Roundtable/Student discussion Guidelines (75 points)

We will utilize a roundtable format, which is a typical conference format that teacher candidates should begin to prepare for. They are standard at all national and international educational conferences. Each student will be responsible for presenting several articles. All students will read articles and chapters, since your contribution to the discussion following the roundtables will be essential.

- Each student will present their article by describing: 1) Title, author 2) Main argument 3) Brief description of Research Methods 4) Theoretical grounding 5) Findings 6) Conclusions and Implications as they relate to our overall discussion on educational equity/inequity. Presenters will construct unanswered questions to be presented to the audience.
 - The participants in the roundtable will also be prepared to tie all the articles or chapters together using analytical themes and to come with several thought provoking questions for discussion.

EMBEDDED SIGNATURE ASSESSMENT

Due May 22, 12 :00 a.m.

Purpose of the Embedded Signature Assessment

Each Multiple Subject and Single Subject credential course contains an Embedded Signature Assessment (ESA). These ESAs are intended to assess important candidate skills and abilities, identify areas of strength and challenge, and contribute to successfully completing the Teaching Event during student teaching. The Teaching Event assesses your ability to plan, implement and assess an instructional unit within the specific context of your student teaching classroom, and reflect on the outcome.

Embedded Signature Assessment for EDUC 381/581

Reflective Essay: Philosophy of Education

Drawing from the course content, your own experiences, and your field experiences, write an 8-10 page reflective essay that addresses the following question:

What is your philosophy of education? How has it changed as a result of what you have learned in this class as well as in your community service experience?

- Incorporate your understanding of your site experiences and class topics (cite the readings, lectures, fieldnotes, speakers) as you speak directly to changes in your knowledge, beliefs, skills, and dispositions. Be specific. It is essential that you discuss the changes which resulted from this class and from your service learning.
- Be sure to engage in a discussion about how beliefs, values, traditions, etc. may continue to get in your way of multicultural competency development.
- This assignment is an essential component to successfully completing your portfolio and your teacher credential and should be written in a way that responds directly to the demands of the TPEs. Refer to the TPEs as you complete the assignment.

Tips:

In order to directly address the TPEs through your own reflections on course content and experiences, you may want to consider the following suggestions:

1. Arrange your reflection around the TPEs: Learning about Students; Social Environment; Professional, Legal, and Ethical Obligations
2. Identify ideas from the readings, lectures, guest speakers, discussions, and service learning field notes that you will include in each section.
3. Use the rubric to guide you.
4. Have someone else read your paper and provide feedback before submitting a draft for instructor feedback.

Teaching Performance Expectations (TPEs)

Each candidate needs to document learning in EACH of the TPEs. For this class, that means TPE 8, 11, and 12 (described below).

PLANNING INSTRUCTION AND DESIGNING LEARNING EXPERIENCES FOR STUDENTS

TPE 8: Learning about students

Candidates draw upon an understanding of patterns of child and adolescent development to understand their students. Using formal and informal methods, they assess students' prior mastery of academic language abilities, content knowledge, and skills, and maximize learning opportunities for all students. Through interpersonal interactions, they learn about students' abilities, ideas, interests and aspirations. They encourage parents to become involved and support their efforts to improve student learning. They understand how multiple factors, including gender and health, can influence students' behavior, and understand the connections between students' health and their ability to learn. Based on assessment data, classroom observation, reflection and consultation, they identify students needing specialized instruction, including students whose physical disabilities, learning disabilities or health status require instructional adaptations, and students who are gifted.

CREATING AND MAINTAINING EFFECTIVE ENVIRONMENTS FOR STUDENT LEARNING

TPE 11: Social Environment

Candidates for a Teaching Credential develop and maintain clear expectations for academic and social behavior. The candidates promote student effort and engagement and create a positive climate for learning. They know how to write and implement a student discipline plan. They know how to establish rapport with all students and their families for supporting academic and personal success through caring, respect, and fairness. Candidates respond appropriately to sensitive issues and classroom discussions. They help students learn to work responsibly with others and independently. Based on observations of students and consultation with other teachers, the candidate recognizes how well the social environment maximizes academic achievement for all students and makes necessary changes.

TPE 12: Professional, Legal and Ethical Obligations

Candidates for a Teaching Credential take responsibility for student academic learning outcomes. They are aware of their own personal values and biases and recognize ways in which these values and biases affect the teaching and learning of students. They resist racism and acts of intolerance. Candidates appropriately manage their professional time spent in teaching responsibilities to ensure that academic goals are met. They understand important elements of California and federal laws and procedures pertaining to the education of English learners, gifted students and individuals with disabilities, including implications for their placement in classrooms. Candidates can identify suspected cases of child abuse, neglect or sexual harassment. They maintain a non-hostile classroom environment. They carry out laws and district guidelines for reporting such cases. They understand and implement school and district policies and state and federal law in responding to inappropriate or violent student behavior.

Candidates understand and honor legal and professional obligations to protect the privacy, health, and safety of students, families and other school professionals. They are aware of and act in accordance with ethical considerations and they model ethical behaviors for students. Candidates understand and honor all laws relating to professional misconduct and moral fitness.
