

Supply Chain Management Institute
University of San Diego
Membership Options
	Membership Level
	Basic <sup>1</sup>	Supporting	Associate	Sponsor
Benefit	< $5,000	$5,000 - $7,500	$12,500 - $15,000	$20,000 - $30,000
Seats at Spring Event and Fall Forum <sup>2</sup>	1	2	5	5
Recognition of your organization as SCMI Advisory Board member	*	*	*	*
Participation on SCMI Advisory Board	*	*	*	*
Discounted rates for additional Spring Symposium registrations		*	*	*
Discounted rates for additional Fall Forum registrations		*	*	*
Voting rights as a SCMI Advisory Board member		*	*	*
First-look privileges on research		*	*	*
Exclusive web access to white papers, technical reports, newsletters (archived), and other member-only publications		*	*	*
Preferential access to USD students for recruiting (e.g., exclusive meeting with students at the annual Career Fair)			*	*
Special executive-level meetings (e.g., organized to share best practices, round table discussions, networking, etc.)
Student-led, faculty-supported research project <sup>2</sup>				*
Discount on all SCMI offerings (e.g., discounts for APICS CSCP training course, professional development workshops, etc.)		10%	25%	25%

<sup>1</sup>Basic members actively participate as a Board member and provide some form of "service in kind" (e.g. enrolling students in the MS-SCM program; actively recruiting and hiring USD SCM students; active committee participation and other services to be determined). Event Sponsorship also qualifies. This level of membership is limited to five (5) firms and must be approved by voting board members on an annual basis.

<sup>2</sup>Can be used by company representative or given to business associates

<sup>3</sup>Semester-long "consulting" project conducted by USD students (could be any combination of undergrad or grad, business or engineering), and supervised by USD faculty. MSSCM students typically do not participate but could if needed to fulfill their Advanced Integrative Project course requirements.

NOTE:

Not all benefits listed are available at this time. Benefits will be added and expanded over the next year and beyond.