

Kelly (Fromm) Woldseth

Current Profession:

- High School Math Teacher of Integrated Math 3 at Poway High School (Alma Mater)
- Math teacher for 4 years at Mission Vista High School

Graduate School:

- Master's of Education at USD
- Master's Credential Cohort (MCC) in SOLES; earned teaching credential and M.Ed in 1 year

Advice:

"My favorite class was Real Analysis because it explained WHY Calculus works. I taught Calculus for two years at my previous school and I loved knowing the WHY of everything we were doing. I took that course with Dr. Gorsky. All of her classes were so interesting. My advice would be for students to stay in touch with professors and classmates from USD and to meet as many people as they can at their first job, because one of those people might have a connection that gets you the next job."

Favorite Book: The Book Thief by Marcus Zusak. The writing style is unique and intriguing and the story about family who hid a Jew during WW2 is powerful.

Hobbies: Coaching Varsity field hockey, reading, crosswords, spending time with family

Other: Kelly just had her first baby three months ago! His name is Ty Woldseth and he was born on 12/20/18.

Fun fact: In her classroom, she has a wall titled "What in the world can you do with a math degree?" Underneath, she has pictures of all her friends from USD who studied math and what career they are currently doing. She made it because a student once asked her, "Why would you study math? Like... what can you do with a math degree?"
