

Kevin Pelaez

Class of 2014

Previous math related professions:

- High school math teacher (9th-11th grade)
- Math Professor at USD and Southwestern Community College and did some data science work at SDSU

Graduate School

- Masters in Statistics from SDSU (graduated May 2018)
- Currently pursuing a Math and Science Education PhD at UCSD

Advice:

“Stay in touch with your professors! They've continued to be my mentors and have been there for me even after I graduated. Try to take classes with as many professors as you can too. They all have different strengths and can teach you something new about math that might spark an interest.”

Favorite book:

Teaching to Transgress by Bell Hooks because she talks about education as a practice of freedom and provides a multicultural lens for what education should be.

Hobbies:

Sleeping and cooking
