Progress on Operational Excellence Study: Stride to 2024

The Stride To 2024 initiative aims to improve structural and operational effectiveness, which will enable USD to take bold strides forward to enrich the overall student experience. The Huron team collected data and met with campus constituents to better understand our culture, policies and processes. As shown in the graphic, the study has progressed from the diagnostic phase to the solution design phase. The next phase will be the execution phase. A report on these findings will be prepared and made available to the campus community. With advisory support from the Strideto2024@USD committee, Executive Council will determine which components of the report to implement as campus-wide operational initiatives.
