

We continue to diversify USD's student body to better reflect the breadth of God's creation.

Student Socio-Economic Diversity

The benchmark of 15 percent is a socio-economic diversity standard set by College Results Online for full-time, first-year undergraduate Pell grant recipients. The percent of full-time first-year UG Pell grant recipients is extracted from IPEDS data shared by College Results Online. The percent of total UG Pell grant recipients is from USD's IRP website. The trend from 2012 thru 2015 for full-time first-year USD undergraduate Pell grant recipients is 17, 19, 16, and 13 percent, respectively. Similarly, the trend for all USD undergraduate Pell grant recipients is 18, 18, 18, and 17 percent, respectively.