Dear International Student,

A virtual welcome from the Office of International Students and Scholars (OISS)! In addition to the university-wide onboarding orientations, as an incoming international student, you are required to complete International Student Virtual Orientation whether you plan to stay in your home country for 100% remote learning or to be on-campus for our hybrid model learning. Please review the following information carefully as this international online orientation is self-paced, and self-guided, so you will have as much time as you need to go through the topics covered.

To access the modules, please click [here]. The modules can also be accessed by logging into iTorero and navigating to "Online Orientation" under the Admissions menu. The Online Orientation Program will consist of 3 modules:

- Module 1: Immigration
- Module 2: Health Insurance
- Module 3: Life at USD

All students on an F-1 or J-1 visa who are planning to attend the fall 2020 semester in person are required to go through all modules. If you plan on attending the fall semester remotely, or you are holding a visa that is neither F-1 or J-1, you are invited to go through Modules 2 and 3 of the orientation program.

Again, the modules are self-paced and self-guided, so you may take as much time as you need to go through every module. However, we do recommend that you complete the modules within the next two weeks.

We hope that you find our orientation program helpful and we look forward to our virtual zoom meeting in the weeks leading the start of school.

If you have questions regarding your Form I-20, holds, or other information related to university-wide or program-specific orientation, please direct your questions to the following:
