USD Women's Law Caucus

LETTER OF SOLIDARITY

In light of recent events, the University of San Diego School of Law's Women's Law Caucus Executive Board is moved to express our support of the Black Lives Matter movement, ending police brutality, and calling for the arrest of all four officers who murdered George Floyd.

Gross inequality has run rampant for far too long, and we support communities across the nation standing up for justice and demanding overdue change.

We strongly believe that feminism must be intersectional, which includes understanding that all lives cannot matter until black lives matter. We recognize that it is not enough to only say the names of those killed by the police, and that the need for systemic change can no longer be ignored.

WLC pledges to maintain our support of minority communities beyond these days of protest, and to continue our active participation in fighting for a world in which all people are not merely created, but also treated, as equal. To our communities of color: we hear you, we see you, we are with you, and we will not stop.

Kezia Adler, President
WLC Executive Board
