Letter of Solidarity and Prayer for Change & Healing

The USD School of Law’s Christian Legal Society (CLS) stands in solidarity with BLSA members and the Black community against racism. We deeply grieve the killing of George Floyd. Christian Legal Society believes in the sacred value of his life and all human life. Recognizing the longstanding disproportionate suffering and oppression of Black communities, we pray for justice, and confess that much needs to change. We are committed to stand for the dignity of all peoples through our members and our ministries. Holy Spirit, continue to convict us to confess our defensiveness, our pride, and our part in the pain caused, so that we can better listen, learn, and love like Jesus. We call upon the name of the Lord Jesus Christ for mercy, help, and healing for Minneapolis and the United States of America.

Seek justice . . .
Love mercy . . .
Walk humbly with your God.
ALL three are incumbent upon
ALL Christians
ALL of the time
Neglecting ANY of these dilutes ALL of them. #ICantBreathe (Micah 6:8).

~Abdu Murray, lawyer with Ravi Zacharias Ministries

To USD BLSA and the entire Black community, we love you, we are for you, we stand alongside you, and we are listening.

In solidarity and love,
