Gathering Song: The Summons, Spirit and Song #137

Responsorial Psalm: Psalm 33 Let Your Mercy Be On Us

Let Your mercy be on us, O God, as we place our trust in You.

Preparation of the Gifts: The Least of These

So when you hold out your hand selflessly and give help to the stranger in need, then whatever you do to the least of these, you do to me.

Mission Sunday

Tonight, in solidarity with Catholic Christians around the world, we celebrate Mission Sunday, an opportunity to renew our commitment to putting our prayers into action, to continuing the mission of Jesus. On this special occasion we are blessed to have Fr. Jesse Esqueda, a priest of the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, with us. Based in Tijuana, Fr. Jesse – like all of the Oblates – is dedicated to serving the poorest of the poor. Many USD students have spent time with Fr. Jesse and the community he serves during TJ Day Trips and Tijuana Spring Breakthrough.

One of Fr. Jesse’s priorities is working with young people. By forming a vibrant youth group, coordinating a Search Retreat and implementing a college scholarship program, Fr. Jesse is striving to support youth and their families. In this way, he and the other Oblates in Tijuana are following the model of their founder, St. Eugene De Mazenod, to help the people they serve first to become human, then Christian and, finally, saints.

While tonight is a time to celebrate the extraordinary work that Fr. Jesse is doing, efforts that are being carried out by dedicated missionaries among the poor and marginalized around the globe, it is also a time to highlight the important work each of us is called to do at home. In our own ways, each of us is called to be a missionary. We need not travel to distant lands, nor be anyone other than who we are. Rather, we are called to live our faith, which includes cultivating a special concern for the poor.

While we as Catholic Christians recognize the importance of coming to the Eucharist to be nourished by the real presence of Christ we encounter here, we equally recognize the imperative of going forth to proclaim the Good News of God’s love. We gather each Sunday so that we can be sent to where the love, compassion and reconciliation of God are most needed.

Tonight we honor and pray for those who travel to distant lands to share God’s love, especially Father Jesse and the Oblates of Mary Immaculate. We also pray that each one of us will be inspired by their example to share the love of God wherever we go, always mindful of the poor.

ST. DIDACUS COLLECTION

This week’s St. Didacus collection will be offered to the community of La Morita, Mexico. Each month, a group of approximately 20 students spends a day in the community, interacting with members of a youth group, visiting those living with HIV and AIDS, and learning about the community from the priests of the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate. The priests of that order staff a parish and a number of satellite chapels throughout the area. The University Ministry monthly trips to La Morita also include a visit to the U.S./Mexico border, a discussion of border and immigration issues, reflection, and prayer.

The funds collected this evening will be used by the priests in La Morita to provide for the educational and other needs of young people in the community.

Last week’s collection raised $546.83 for USD on-campus food pantries. Thank you for your generosity.

Join us for free dinner and to hear from former volunteers about their transformational experience in the Jesuit Volunteer Corps. This event is open to students of all grade levels and majors that are interested in learning more about engaging in JVC’s four values of Social Justice, Spirituality, Simple Living and Community during a year (or two) of service! Domestic and international experiences available. For more information, contact Maria Gaughan at mariag@sandiego.edu

A Time to Listen - Bishop McElory

Listening Session

Monday, November 5th
10:00 - 11:15 a.m.
IPJ Theater

Our Bishop, Robert McElroy, will be on campus to listen to our community’s thoughts, feelings and questions regarding clergy sexual abuse and the church’s response.

Very likely, this session will be emotionally intense, with accounts of sexual misconduct described and strong feelings such as anger, sadness and outrage expressed. All are welcome, but please discern thoughtfully if you are prepared for the nature of the conversation.

Women’s Small Group

Join us for conversation, self-care, friendship, and spiritual nourishment!
Thursday, October 25th from 5:30 - 6:30 pm in Degheri 102

Why I chose a year of service: When I was in my senior year and people would ask me the proverbial, “What are you doing when you graduate?” I would always respond with, “I don’t know, but it’s going to be interesting.” Doing a year of service to me meant that I would be sent somewhere I had never been, be a part of a new community, impact the world in some unique way, and get real-world job experience. A year of service was also an easier transition from college because I knew that I would have the support of the community in the program and I would never be alone. Little did I know that “interesting” for me would turn out to be Arkansas, but it was the best decision God ever led me to make and I would encourage anyone to think outside of the box when choosing a location to serve in.
