

Leadership Studies, MA

Assessment Overview & Results Summary

College/School:	School of Leadership and Education Sciences
Measures Used:	Students complete a final project that involves writing a research proposal with literature review, methodology, and planned analysis. Eighty-three percent of the students received a 100% of the total points.
Process for Interpretation of Evidence:	Students work with their advisor and also their course instructor to complete the final project. Students then present their final project to all MA LS faculty for feedback. Projects are graded by the course instructor.
How Findings are Used:	✓ Changes to curriculum/pedagogy
Results Summary and Continuous Improvement Actions for AY 2020-2021:	Our Plan of Action Document completed by faculty, students and staff in Spring 2021 indicated that several steps needed to be taken to address issues related to DEI to improve program quality. A steering committee was formed to guide 4 sub-committees to analyze practices that would address: 1) student retention and success; (2) school climate, culture, and community engagement;(3) faculty retention and success; (4) teaching and pedagogy. A final report will be completed by the end of the year detailing assessment and actions to be taken.
