

Finance Major (FINA)

Outcome Name	Outcome
Knowledge of Financial Theory and its application	Students will be able to a) demonstrate the principles of financial management and investments; and b) apply financial theory in the analysis of problems and issues.
Written and oral communications skills	Students will be able to a) write assignments that are coherent, organized, concise, grammatically correct and well presented; and b) present oral presentations that are coherent, organized, concise, engaged and well presented.
Skills needed to critically analyze information	Students will be able to a) identify a problem; b) gather and analyze relevant data needed to address the problem; and c) identify and evaluate solutions.
Skills need to utilize and leverage technology within the financial community	Students will be able to a) demonstrate proficiency in computer applications relevant to financial analysis; b) demonstrate proficiency in developing financial models for sensitivity analysis; and c) demonstrate proficiency in using technology to assess financial data and literature.
Ethical attitudes and values	Students will be able to a) Identify appropriate values in a given context; b) describe appropriate professional responsibilities; and c) distinguish ethical from unethical behavior.