Guercino

10/13/06 through 1/7/07

Timken Museum of Art in Balboa Park (www.timkenmuseum.org/1-internal-page.html)

This Timken-organized focus exhibition examines the marked change in style that characterizes the early and late works of a master painter of Baroque Italy: Giovanni Francesco Barbieri, called Guercino (1591-1666). The exhibition and accompanying catalogue, Guercino: Stylistic Evolution in Focus, authored by art historian Shilpa Prasad, yield a new explanation for changes in the artist's style, one that focuses on shifting conceptions of representation and spectatorship in Italy during the 1600s.

Admission free.
