

Small Business Development Center (SBDC at USD)
Procurement Technical Assistance Center (PTAC)
Mulvaney Center for Community Awareness and Social Action; and Procurement Services Department, USD
Presents
Supplier Diversity Training Workshops

Growing a vibrant, diverse supplier base works best when small and diverse business owners have a clear roadmap to success. The University of San Diego (USD) Supplier Diversity Program is designed to help small and diverse business owners navigate the supplier diversity qualification process.

Learn about supplier diversity basics, including the USD procurement process, and how to qualify for the USD Locally-Owned Small Business Program.

The program is offered quarterly at various locations within the community, with the kick-off meeting on the USD Campus located at 5998 Alcala Park, San Diego. The program will cover the following topics:

1. Overview of Federal, State, Local Government, and USD certification programs that are available to small businesses
2. Who accepts the certification?
3. Identifying certifying agencies
4. Eligibility requirements
5. Benefits of certification
6. University of San Diego (USD) procurement process

Schedule -2019/2020

August 14, 2019 – 10:00 am at USD – Warren Auditorium

November 6, 2019 – 10: 00 am at Community Site (TBD)

February 12, 2020 – 10:00 am at Community Site (TBD)

May 13, 2020 – 10:00 am at Community Site (TBD)

Cost

Free to small business owners. RSVP Required.

RSVP to supplierdiversity@sandiego.edu