

Jennifer's Prayer

Lord, we are so thankful that in the uncertain times of our lives, we can call on you for peace and comfort.

Although, we know that this life is temporary, we can become so attached to it, forgetting your promises of eternal life.

Forgive us for our forgetfulness and selfishness.

Help us unclasp our hands and release to you what is heavy on our hearts and minds.

You are our comforter, please bring peace to our anxious hearts; Remind us of your never-ending love.

Father God, may we find rest and renewal in your loving arms.

You know each of our spoken and unspoken needs.

Thank you for pouring out your love upon each of us, your children.

May we strive each day to live better than before.

May our words and actions bring glory to you and your Kingdom.

Amen.

Author: Jennifer Wallace

